ABOUT ME

I am a 20 years old first year game design student in ARUCAD, Kyrenia. My previous university was Dubna University in a Moscow suburb town called Dubna. I studied software engineering for two years and had courses on HTML, CSS and JS and web app development. I love graphic design, and that partially was the reason of switching universities and degrees, as I wanted more creativity in my field.

I use Photoshop and Illustrator for many years now. It started as a hobby, but now I want to do it professionally. I do designs regularly for ANTIQUIZ in North Cyprus, as well as some smaller scale things. In the past, I was a project lead for a project called "Jackbox Games on Russian", which translated gameshow video games to Russian language on a crowdfunded basis. My duties consisted of remaking graphics from scratch (more in Graphics localization section), dissecting and stitching game databases, translating text, and making social media posts. Now I act more as a consultant as I look for a more stable experience.

I look for positions on Web Development and Graphic Design, and on Software Development. I am a quick learner and welcome new work experiences.
